CARETAKER POSITION AVAILABLE

The BelleMont Bahá'i School has an opening for a caretaker. There is no salary, but living quarters with gas, water, electric and septic, a considerable savings for anyone living in Northern Arizona, are provided. The caretaker and the Local Spiritual Assembly of the Bahá'is of Flagstaff, Arizona, will enter into an independent contractor agreement. The position is best suited for a single person willing to live in a trailer home, wanting to save money and likes the solitude of living in a beautiful pine forest with no neighbors. Employment can be found in the surrounding area, but securing a job prior to moving to the area, is strongly recommended. People applying for the position will need their own health insurance. Although the school property is not completely isolated, it is located in an area where winter conditions vary from mild to the possibility of heavy snow some years. A married couple without children would find the accommodation small, but a family with children would not have enough space. Unless you have been to the School, it is important that you visit the area before making the decision to apply. All applications will be screened and reviewed by the BelleMont Baha'i School Property Committee. They will then be submitted with recommendations to the Flagstaff Local Spiritual Assembly for the final selection. All Bahá'is in good standing who have the essential qualifications will be considered. Character references, employment records and proof of health insurance are requested. The person selected will be expected to lead a life in keeping with the basic tenets of the Bahá'i Faith. The caretaker position requires a mature adult in good health who is capable of operating and maintaining a rural water system and is familiar with basic electrical and plumbing repairs. No pets will be allowed in any of the school buildings including the caretaker trailer.
